

Camellia Waldorf School is currently seeking a Spanish Teacher for our 2021-22 school year.

Camellia is seeking an enthusiastic Spanish teacher with a passion for sharing their language with our 1st – 8th graders. Full fluency is necessary. Native speakers are preferred, and those with Spanish teaching experience in a Waldorf school are ideal. Teachers new to Waldorf education are also welcome if they have a serious interest in developing themselves as a Waldorf language teacher. We seek teachers with a deep understanding of child development, an interest in Anthroposophy, a love of working with young children.

Candidates for this position should be aware that we have been teaching outdoors this past school year and may need to continue to do so next year, depending on circumstances regarding the pandemic. Any familiarity or experience with distance teaching would be considered a bonus.

This is part-time position paid by the hour.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply. Please send a resume, cover letter, and three professional references to jobs@camelliawaldorf.org

Located in the serene Pocket Area of Sacramento, California, Camellia Waldorf School, founded in 1989, is an AWSNA-accredited urban school with 140 students from diverse backgrounds. Our strong and devoted community boasts dedicated parents and friends. Our Board of Trustees is made up of current parents, members of the faculty, and enthusiastic parents of long-graduated alums.

We offer classes from preschool through eighth grade. We have been open and teaching in-person, on-campus classes outside since September 2020, and are experiencing tremendous growth during this time. Our program includes Spanish, Music, Handwork, Woodworking, Movement and Gardening. Camellia is committed to bringing the fullest curriculum to the students, maintaining the health of the teachers, and to the continued study of anthroposophy.
